BLAINE ANSWERS.

OFFICIAL REPLY TO ITALIAN PRETENSIONS.

Our Government Will Make no Pledges Before Investigation Counting War Pos- [illegible] Surprise and Anger at Fava's Action.

WASHINGTON, April 1. The following correspondence between Baron Fava and Secretary Blaine relating to the Italian troubles is made public to-night:

ROYAL LEGATION OF ITALY
WASHINGTON, March 31, 1891.

Mr. Secretary of State:

By my two notes of the 12th and 26th inst. I had the honor to call Your Excellency's serious attention to the occurrences of extraordinary gravity which took place at New Orleans on the 14th, when by four subjects of the king of Italy, who were confined in the prison of that city, were massacred by the crowd under the leadership of two American citizens.

After having formally protested against the unjustifiable conduct of the local authorities, which was evidently recreant to all their duties on that occasion, I asserted to the government of his majesty the right to demand such satisfaction as it might think proper, since the occurrence in question constituted a patent violation of the stipulations of the treaty in force between our two countries, which secures to Italian subjects residing in the United States the same protection that is enjoyed by American citizens and which has always been extended to the latter in Italian territory.

The reparation demanded by the government of the king, as I have had the honor to inform you in our interviews held during the last few days, were to consist of the following points:

1. The official assurance by the federal government that the guilty parties should be brought to justice.

2. The recognition, in principle, that an indemnity is due to the relatives of the victims.

Your excellency was pleased to declare to me that as the federal government did not think that it could take this view of the case, it declined to take the two afore-said demands into consideration. Under these circumstances, the government of His Majesty, considering that the legitimate action of the king's minister at Washington becomes inefficacious, has ordered me to take my leave.

In obedience to the instructions which I have received, I have the honor to announce to your excellency that I am going to leave Washington, as speedily as possible, leaving the Marquis Imperiali, his majesty's secretary of legation, in charge of the current business of the royal legation.

Be pleased to accept, Mr. Secretary of State, the renewed assurance of my high consideration. FAVA.

His Excellency, J. G. Blaine, Secretary of State.

BLAINE'S STATEMENT.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
WASHINGTON, April 1, 1891.

The Marquis Imperiali, Chargé D'Affaires, etc.:

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of a note of yesterday's date from Baron Fava, who has left the Italian legation in your charge.

I beg to express the sincere regret with which the government of the United States receives the intelligence of Baron Fava's speedy departure from this capital. Though he has more than once intimated this purpose, the government of the United States has been unable to assign adequate reasons for such a step. The Baron's service here for the past [illegible] years has been distinguished at all times by the most agreeable relations with the executive department of the government. The regret at his leaving is enhanced, when, as the president believes, he has been recalled under a misrepresentation of facts by the government of Italy. The cause of his sundering his diplomatic relations with this government is thus given in his note:

The reparation demanded by the government of the king, as I have had the honor to inform you in our interviews held during the last few days, were to consist of the following points:

1. The official assurance of the federal government that the guilty parties should be brought to justice.

2. The recognition, in principle, that an indemnity is due to the relatives of the victims.

The first demand thus stated by Baron Fava is slightly changed in phrase from that employed by him in his many verbal requests, based on a telegram from the Marquis Rudini, which he left with me. The Marquis Rudini declared that Italy's right to demand and to obtain punishment of the murderers and an indemnity for the victims is unquestionable." It is inferred that Baron Fava's change of phrase meant no change of demand.

I have endeavored to impress upon him in the several personal interviews with which he has honored me, that the government of the United States is utterly unable to give the assurance which the Marquis Rudini has demanded. Even if the national government had the jurisdiction of the alleged murderers it could not give assurance to any foreign power that they should be punished. The president is unable to see how any government could justly give an assurance of this character in advance of a trial and a verdict of "guilty."

In the constitution of the United States, it is declared that "in all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury of the state and district wherein the crime shall have been committed." It needs no argument to prove that a jury would not be impartial if it were in any sense or to any degree, bound before the trial of the accused by an assurance which the president of the United States had ventured to give to a foreign power. In the constitution of the state of Louisiana, under whose immediate jurisdiction the crimes were committed, substantially the same provision is found; so that the governor of the state would be as unable to give a pledge in advance for the result of a trial under state law as the president would be were it practicable to try the leaders of the mob under the law of the United States.

In Baron Fava's second point he demands the recognition in principle that an indemnity is due to the relatives of the victims. He is under a grave error when he declares that the United States refused to take this demand into consideration and I shall regret if he has communicated such a conclusion to your government. The United States so far from refusing has distinctly recognized the principle of indemnity to those Italian subjects who may have been wronged by a violation of the rights secured to them under the treaty with the United States of February 26, 1871.

I have repeatedly given to Baron Fava the assurance that, under the direction of the president, all the facts and incidents connected with the unhappy tragedy at New Orleans on the 14th of March last, should most thoroughly be investigated. I have also informed him that as soon as each successive step in the investigation should be taken, the government of the United States would be ready to receive and consider any representations which the Italian government might make touching the matter. I have never suggested, nor have I now suggested, that the Italian government should in any way abridge the free discussion of the facts of the case, or should refrain from any action which it might think proper to take in the premises. On the contrary, I have always said that the most complete and searching investigation would be welcomed by the president, and that the results would be made known to the world in the fullest manner. I have also said that if the Italian government should think that the facts should be made the basis of a demand for reparation, the president would be glad to receive such demand in the form in which it might be presented, and would give it the most careful and respectful consideration

An evening contemporary announced not long ago that it would copy no more items from the GAZETTE, without either testifying them or giving credit. We regret that a neglect of this wise purpose should have led to a mistake in regard to the Miller Richards brush plow, and we extend to our amiable contemporary the compliments of the season.

The suggestion of the London Chronicle is an excellent one. The proper answer to Italy's insult is the prohibition of Italian immigration. We want no more of murderous bandits, no more hideed galley slaves and assisted pauper immigrants, no more of speakeasies and saloons, no more of the horde of Anarchists who spit and ridicule the institutions which give them food and shelter, for their lives and the starving once at the sea, and freedom too, whose chief privilege seems to be to them to display their ignorance and ingratitude.

THE KINGDOM OF ITALY.

In view of what is now the most absorbing subject in the public mind, we cannot do better than to devote a considerable part of our space this morning to some facts in regard to the nation which seems to be so anxious to pick a quarrel with us, and whose guns may soon be heard along our coasts. These facts and figures are compiled from the latest official sources and may be relied upon as accurate.

Italy is a limited monarchy. Its present king is Humbert I. (Umberto) born March 14, 1844, son of Victor Emanuel, to whom he succeeded January 9, 1878. His wife is Margherita, daughter of Ferdinand, Duke of Genoa. The heir to the throne is Victor Emanuel, born Nov. 11, 1900.

The Italian constitution is developed from that given to Sardinia by King Carlo Alberto in 1848. It gives the executive power of the state exclusively to the king, and it is exercised by him through responsible ministers, while the legislative authority is shared by king and parliament. There are two chambers, that of the senate and deputies. The senate is composed of the princes of blood royal who are of age, and of an unlimited number of members above forty years of age who are nominated by the king for life. There are now about 70 senators. The number of deputies is 508, or one to every 57,000 of the population (census of 1881). The number of qualified voters in 1880 was 2,420,327, 68.5 per cent. of whom exercised this right. The duration of parliament is five years, but the king may dissolve it at any time. It must meet every year. There are eleven cabinet ministers: Interior, foreign affairs, finance, treasury, justice and ecclesiastical affairs, war, marine, commerce, industry and agriculture; public instruction; public works, posts and telegraphs.

Italy is divided into sixty-nine provinces, with area and population as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Area, sq. miles | 114,410 |
| Population, 1881 | 28,459,628 |
| Population, estimated, 1890 | 30,000,000 |
| Population per sq. mile | 261.13 |

The population of Italy is nearly stationary. The annual surplus of births over deaths is about 300,000 and the annual emigration is nearly the same. About one tenth of this number come to the United States and more than one fifth to European countries. More than one half in 1890 went to South America but last year this number was considerably reduced.

The principal cities of Italy with their populations are as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Naples | 463,172 |
| Milan | 235,243 |
| Rome | 237,506 |
| Palermo | 244,137 |
| Genoa | 236,712 |
| Turin | 173,063 |
| Florence | 194,192 |
| Venice | 128,445 |
| Bologna | 103,936 |

There are five others above 50,000 and eighteen above 30,000.

The Roman Catholic religion is nominally the state religion of Italy, the laws subordinate the power of the church and clergy to the civil government. In 1881 there were 62,000 Protestants and 38,000 Jews, the rest were Catholics. The king and pope occupy positions of hostility towards each other on account of the destruction of the pope's temporal power, and numerous laws which have been passed limiting the power and wealth of the clergy. It is not likely that the pope would attempt to influence the members of his church in this country in a way to embarrass our government, nor is there any reason to believe that Americans are so lacking in patriotism as to allow any attempt of the kind to be successful.

Italy has a compulsory school system for children between six and nine years of age and no person can keep school without permission of the authorities. The percentage of illiterates over twenty years was in 1881, 72.93 per cent. Italy has twenty-one universities, with 901 professors and 15,541 students, and thirty-two government libraries. There were in 1887, 135 daily newspapers and 520 weekly. In 1888, 10,863 books were published.

In 1890 there were 37,391 persons convicted for crime, and in June of that year there were 69,938 persons confined in jail awaiting trial.

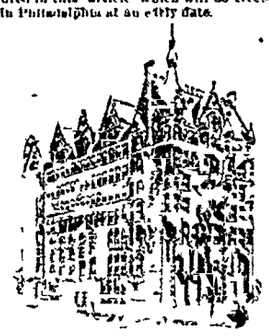
NEWS AND NOTES FROM MANY FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Gossiping About the Building to Be Erected by Members of the Iron Hall in the Quaker City—Items from Other Secret Societies.

Not long ago there was formed in Philadelphia "The Iron Hall building company," the result of its work is shown in the completed plans of the structure pictured in this article which will be erected in Philadelphia at an early date.



THE PROPOSED PHILADELPHIA BUILDING.

The new building will be located on Broad street, above Arch, adjoining the Academy of Fine Arts, and will have a frontage on Broad street of 71 feet, running back to a depth of 145. The company proposes to erect on this lot a handsome seven story building, composed of vitrified brick with brownstone settings. The structure will be in the Gothic style of architecture and from the second story upward will be turreted, each turret being set in brown cut stone. The pointed spires of the upper tier will tower high above all the buildings in the immediate vicinity, from which will float night and day a streamer, showing to the residents of this city a monument to the strength, growth, and stability of this order of the people.

The ground floor will be occupied by a banking company, and the second floor will be given up to an auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,500, in the rear while in the front of the building a number of large offices are to be situated.

The third, fourth and fifth floors will be occupied by a series of offices, both single and en suite. The sixth floor will have two large and four small lodge rooms, with a large banqueting room, in which will be all the appliances requisite for scenes of mirth and festivity. On the seventh floor a restaurant will be situated.

The building will be furnished throughout with electric lights and all the improved methods of heating, ventilation, etc. Elevators will run in the front and back of the building, and the whole, throughout, will be made absolutely fireproof. The ground will be broken this spring and building operations will be commenced at once the whole to be completed by July 1, 1892.

MASONIC.

The Grand State Taylor of the New York Items Various Items.

The old-time-long topic among the Masons in the state of New York and in the lodges is the laying of the corner stone of the home and asylum at Utica in May next. The time has been fixed for Thursday, May 21. The M. W. grand master, Bro. John W. Vrooman, will officiate. M. W. past grand master, Bro. Frank R. Lawrence, who, by his wisdom and energy, made the laying of the corner stone at this time possible, will deliver the oration. The R. W. grand secretary, Bro. E. M. L. Ehlers, has charge of the arrangements of details and will be marshal of the day.

Reduced rail road fare will be secured from all parts of the state. It is expected that 50,000 Masons will assemble on that occasion at Utica. It will be the grandest display ever witnessed at the laying of a corner stone and the most notable and important event in Masonic history. Lodges are considering the feasibility of attending in a body. Districts are negotiating for special trains, and everybody has caught the contagion.

Notes.

Libertas Lodge of Perfection, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, at Richmond, Va., has about sixty members, among whom are nearly all the loudest Masons of that city. Bro. Hartley Carmichael is the venerable master and Bro. Charles Nesbitt Master of Ceremonies.

El Kahir Temple of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, at Cedar Rapids, Ia., has presented to the Grand Masonic library of Iowa a shrine case to be used for the keeping and display of articles of interest to shriners.

Albert Pike is the only survivor of the charter members of the first commandery in Arkansas. He was made an honorary member of the grand commandery at its recent session.

The Masons of the German Fatherland number 44,300. The total number of lodges is 390.

Grand Master Bro. Thomas J. Shryock's mother, when a little girl in 1824, was selected to recite a children's welcome, on the occasion of the Marquis de Lafayette's visit to Alexandria, Va. In after life Mrs. Shryock was always in favor of her sons becoming Masons, and there is now no more efficient and popular grand master of Masons in the United States than Grand Master Shryock of Maryland.

RED MEN.

Indiana a Small Beginning—A Home Project—Short Talks.

The great council of Indiana was instituted on the 11th of Flower moon, G. S. D. 394. At that time there were but four tribes in the state. The first tribe instituted on the 28th of Hunting moon, G. S. D. 362, by great Incohonee, George A. Peter.

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the home for aged and infirm members of the order in Pennsylvania it was decided to push the measure forward as rapidly as possible.

The Wampum Belt, published by P. G. I. Charles H. Litchman, has again made its appearance after having been silent for two great suns.

Another paper in the interests of the order will soon make its appearance in Philadelphia under the title of The Tomahawk.

A new tribe is to be instituted in San Francisco with a large list of charter applicants.

Tribe No. 30, of Lebanon, O., during the past few suns has adopted nearly fifty candidates.

Lively Work on the Illinois Orphans Home—Notes.

From the charitable to the needy is not a far cry when the Odd Fellows act as public critics to the cause. Less than two months ago the Odd Fellows' association of Illinois decided that an orphans' home should be built and suitably furnished. The city of Lincoln, Ills., donated forty acres of land to the association for building purposes. Plans for the projected home were submitted to the board of directors and approved by them. The main building to be constructed will cost from $40,000 to $50,000 and the further room required will be provided for by buildings erected on the cottage plan. The corner stone will be laid the third Thursday in May with due and proper ceremonies, the order throughout the state participating therein. It is expected to have the central building complete and ready for occupancy prior to the next session of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows, which will meet in November.

Nowhere in the world is the average membership for lodges so large as in the New England states, and of the six jurisdictions where average membership exceeds 100 per lodge five are comprised within the limit of that territory. Massachusetts leads with an average of 193, Connecticut has 178, Maine 159, New Hampshire 133, Rhode Island 121. District of Columbia 30. From this point the number decreases to twenty five which honor belongs to Arkansas.

It is the intention of General J. C. Underwood, commander of the Patriarchs Militant, to have a full regiment of twelve cantons and band in Chicago before the next summer is over.

There are seventy-four subordinate lodges in Chicago, fourteen encampments, seven cantons and fifteen Rebekah degree lodges.

The grand lodge of Georgia at its recent session appointed a state organizer and appropriated $200 to pay his expenses.

In a circular to the subordinate lodges, Grand Master Bourlett of Ohio says, "Healthy members make thinking members, such as the order needs."

Norristown, Pa., has a board of nearly 800 Odd Fellows.

The I. O. O. F. have nearly 30,000 financial members in Australia, or an increase of about 3,000 in three years.

Chicago has seventy lodges.

The ritual is to be printed in the Italian language.

The Odd Fellows at Spring Hill, Kan., have sold their old building to the colored Masons and are negotiating for the erection of a magnificent structure.

The per capita tax in Alabama is $1.50.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Interesting and Gratifying Figures from Colorado—Random Jottings.

The statistical records from the office of the grand keeper of records and seal of Colorado show the membership in that jurisdiction in the order June 30 to have been 6,922, the new lodges having been instituted since that date increasing the membership at present to about 7,100. The income for year ending June 30, 1890, was [illegible] and for term ending same date 1,405. The value of property held by the subordinate lodges amounts to $188,012.30.

Banner lodge, No. 219 of Chicago, rightly deserves its name. It was organized last August through the efforts of General Brand with a charter membership of about 200, which number has been increased by frequent additions until it now has about 800, and no lodge in the order can boast of a more worthy membership.

Calanthe temple No. 3, Pythian Sisters, of Effingham, Ills., instituted last February, has at present seventy-eight members, and is in good financial condition. Mrs. Jennie Tomlinson is M. E. C. and Miss Olia Hasbrook R. of C.

The members of the order will be glad to learn that the past grand chancellor to Massachusetts is able once more to be among the members having fully recovered from the effects of his recent accident.

The Pythian Hall association of Sacramento, Cal., is in a flourishing condition, a dividend having already been paid to the stockholders who hold fully paid up shares, equal to 6 per cent. per annum on the investment.

The grand lodge of Ohio levies a per capita tax of fifty cents per annum upon its 31,000 members. Within one month after the close of the grand lodge session the populations were looked for with new lodges.

Major J. H. E. Weignart has been appointed colonel and assistant adjutant general of the Kansas brigade, vice Colonel Creighton resigned.

The amount of cash on hand in all subordinate lodges in the Connecticut jurisdiction on Jan. 1, 1890, was $34,50 58; amount Jan. 1, 1891, $40,728.84, gain, $7,407.28.

A fine Pythian castle is to be erected in Boston.

Eckstein to the lodges in Minnesota realized the sum of $1,210.20, which was handed over to the destitute widow and orphan children.

Supreme Foreman Kinsley says: "We claim for Montana that we have the largest lodge in the order for the size of our city. Capitol Lodge No. 2, with over 700 in it, lives in the city of Helena, with a population of 14,000."

He Called.

The other day a citizen who rides down town on the platform of a Cass avenue car every morning received a postal card asking him to call at a fourth story room in a down town block, and he had no time in putting in an appearance. He found the occupant to be a man who often rode on the same car with him and the latter at once got to business by saying:

"Thursday morning last we rode down on the same car, remember?"

"Yes. It was snowing. I gave you a light for your cigar."

"Exactly. About one hundred feet west of Cass avenue you asked me if I ever saw such March weather."

"Yes."

"About seventy five feet after we had made the curve from Ledyard street I replied that I never had. I was honest in that reply, but I got to thinking the matter over and decided to consult my weather record. I now find that I misled you."

"How?"

"I find that March 1847 and March 1862 were exactly such Marches as this. I therefore deceived you when I said I had never seen such March weather. I beg your pardon and express my regrets."

"But—but"

"That is all. Good day."

He went out and shut the door after him and then stood there three or four minutes undecided what to do. He finally walked off to the head of the stairs, took off his overcoat and pushed up his sleeves and waited for forty minutes more, but it was in vain. The mistaken man did not appear.—Detroit Free Press.

When children have taken cold there is nothing better to give them than molasses and butter and vinegar. To half a cup of molasses take a tablespoonful of butter and two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, cook a few minutes and give a little frequently. Quite young children can take this.

ONE WAY OF CELEBRATING THE FEAST OF PRACTICAL JOKES

Ernest Jarrold Tells How One Young Howard Montague Man of Wealth and Position, Made Himself and Many Others Quite Happy in an Entirely New Way

[Special Correspondence.]

New York, March 31.—Mr. Howard Montague, a young man of wealth and position, lived in a private apartment in Lexington avenue. He was fond of practical jokes, and was accustomed to spend his mornings at his club, where he would frequently wager a coffee-spoon and a pound of sugar against any suggested entertainment. He was a member of the club, and was known as a man who was fond of a joke, and who was willing to pay for it. He was also known as a man who was willing to pay for

Mr. J. L. Clinton has taken a lease of one of the store rooms in the Bacon building for his photograph business. The establishment will be fitted up in fine style.

The races that were to have occurred at Perry Johnson's track this afternoon, have been postponed until next Monday. The heavy winds have put the track out of condition.

Mr. Charles H. Ashton, who has been with the GAZETTE for a time as stenographer, has taken a permanent position in the counting room of the Shields Worley Grocery company.

Mrs. E. J. Eaton, wife of the secretary of state, and Mrs. A. A. McKinney, wife of our state senator, went to Denver yesterday to assist Governor and Mrs. Routt at the legislative reception.

The Evening Mail last night issued a call for a Democratic city convention, to be held in City hall to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. The call is signed by the venerable citizen "Many Democrats."

It will be seen by a notice in another column that the real estate and insurance firm of McIntyre & Meier has been dissolved. Both the gentlemen will continue in the business at the old stand, McIntyre & Meier.

Mr. J. A. Weir has not yet rented the room in the postoffice building now occupied by the office. He is putting on a forty-five foot addition in the rear and will put in a plate glass front and otherwise improve the place.

Mr. F. W. Sherrett, chief clerk to General Manager Colbran of the Midland, filed his declaration of intention of becoming a citizen of the United States yesterday.

After the regular weekly prayer meeting at the First Presbyterian church last evening the annual church meeting was held. Mr. W. H. Humphrey and Reuben Worley were elected trustees to succeed Messrs. Fox and Mr. L. H. Gowdy was elected secretary and treasurer for the fifth year.

Mr. Matthew Davis has completed a large tower on his place at Woodland Park. It is at least on a high bluff, the top of the tower being arranged for a telescope. A splendid view can be had of the country for miles around, and the tower will be a great attraction at the resort next summer.

The fellows who issued the call for the independent city convention, to be held at city hall to-night, have declared the meeting off. They were for C. L. Gillingham for mayor, provided he would make an independent race, but after his name was presented in the Republican convention the callers were "again in."

The first number of the Colorado Pythian, a magazine devoted to the interests of the Knights of Pythias of the state, was issued from the press of S. N. Fowler & Co. yesterday. It is very neat typographically, and is well edited, and the only publication in the state devoted exclusively to the Pythians. F. A. Manzanold and S. H. Kinsley are the editors, with J. K. Miller, manager.

In the presence of a few friends, and at the residence of J. R. Edwards, No. 23 South Nevada, at 8 p. m., Tuesday, March 31, 1891, Rev. J. P. Lacoe pronounced the ceremony that united Mr. E. F. Eastman and Mrs. Minerva Edwards in the bonds of holy wedlock. The newly-wedded pair will visit friends in St. Joseph, Mo., then return to this city to reside permanently.

The snow storm of Tuesday night lasted until sunrise without any abatement, but the cold gradually lessened. The Rapid Transit company had a gang of men working nearly all night, but the snow drifted so rapidly that their labor was needless. When the sun rose a warm wind began and a thaw set in which lasted all day and disposed of about all of the snow not in drifts. By 11 o'clock the track-cleaners, aided by the weather, had all the street car tracks open and all the lines were running regularly. Owing to the sudden nature of the thaw the "Miller-Richards" snow plow was not brought up town. As far as it was used, it satisfied all the objects of its construction, but it will probably not be purchased by the company. The railroad delay was slight. Morning trains from Denver and from the east were from one to three hours late but in the afternoon they came in on time.

Effie Ellsler.

Effie Ellsler in her new comedy, "Mrs. Manning," will be the attraction at the opera house Monday evening. An exchange in speaking of her says: "Effie Ellsler in a comedy role is a novelty. She has been associated so long in the minds of the public with tears and tremulous lips that it is difficult to think of her as a laughing, sunshiny little body. Yet such she was found by the people who witnessed her Kansas City debut in the bright comedy, "Mrs Manning," written by James B. Runion, of the Kansas City Star, at the Coates opera house last night. Comedy sits well on her slight frame and mobile face, and though it may be a disappointment to her lady admirers to see her shed only crocodile tears and to hear in her sobs the echo of the spoiled school girl, the gentlemen will pay to genius the tribute of finding her more acceptable in the new light."

THE CITY COUNCIL.

A Special Meeting to Dispose of Outstanding Business.

A special meeting of the city council was held last night, all the members but Lynch being present.

A petition from Neville & White, asking for a special rate for city water for making artificial ice, was read and referred to the water committee.

Mr. William Clark, the florist, addressed the council. He said that the Denver and Rio Grande Railway company were thinking of improving the strip of ground running from the depot south to Huerfano street and making of it a park similar to those at their depots in Manitou, Pueblo and Pagosa Vista and they wanted to know if the city would allow them the free use of water. Water Commissioner Frost said that there were several private lawns in the city which were as large and he did not think there would be any trouble in sparing the water. Alderman Barnes said that the city had been furnishing water free to citizens for public improvements of this kind and he moved that it be reconsidered the sense of this council that the privilege be granted when regularly asked for at a regular meeting.

A communication from Colorado Springs post, G. A. R., was read, inviting the mayor and aldermen to attend the anniversary exercises next Monday evening. Mayor Stillman said that next Monday evening was a regular meeting night for the council, but he suggested that the council meet at 7 o'clock and transact whatever business was necessary and then adjourn to the church. This suggestion was considered and the invitation accepted.

As there were some of the city accounts overdrawn, and there still remained some money in the miscellaneous account, the finance committee was authorized to make such transfers as were necessary to close the books for the fiscal year.

The following bills were read and allowed:

The committee appointed to investigate the bill of William Honeyman, for forty-two dollars on account of injuries received while on duty as fireman, reported favorably and it was allowed.

On motion of Alderman Rogers, a claim for mileage bill from the Denver and Rio Grande was ordered to be marked "refused" and returned to the company.

The bill of Hassell & Talcott for "use of batteries" provoked a great deal of discussion, but it was finally decided that it was part of the duty of the chief of the fire department, to look after this work and the bill was not allowed.

County Treasurer McCreary was requested to furnish five lists of city taxpayers for use at the coming bond election. The council then adjourned.

Bismarck's Birthday.

Hamburg, April 1.—The 76th birthday of Bismarck was grandly celebrated at Friedrichsruhe. Deputations were present with addresses and offerings from all parts of Germany. [illegible] included many of the aristocracy, among them the Duke Ulrich, Prince of Hohenlohe, himself only a year younger than Bismarck. The ex-chancellor appeared thrice in public and loud, fervent cheers greeted him on every occasion. Seven thousand visitors paraded on the heartfelt sachsen wald. The telegrams of congratulation numbered 3000 and include one from Kaiser Wilhelm and one from Prince Henry, the kaiser's brother, also telegrams from Waldersee and Moltke. In the evening a great torchlight procession marched up to Friedrichsruhe. The prince met the paraders at the castle gate. In reply to their cheers, he said he felt as if receiving a "good school certificate. When he was a minister of state he had not always got such hearty and gratifying recognition.

The Coke Strike.

Pittsburg, April 1.—The situation in the coke regions continues quiet. No lawlessness has occurred for forty-eight hours, but the operators are still apprehensive and look for an outbreak at any time. It is claimed that the word has been passed around for a general movement at 2 o'clock to-morrow morning. The strike leaders say it is not true that the time of the inauguration of the eight hour movement has been changed from May 1st to April 1st.

The situation is desperate in the coke regions and the leaders recognizing this have determined to put their money in the coke strike and make the eight-hour movement the subject of after consideration. No general strike of miners, they say, will be ordered until after the inter-state conference of mine-owners and workers in this city next Tuesday.

Mexican Explorations.

Washington, April 1.—A Mexican paper published in the province of Chiapas says: An English commission, authorized by the governor general, is now in Palenque, furnished with all the necessary instruments needful for the exploration of those marvelous ruins in that department. It would appear that the hour of the resurrection had come for the American Babylon. The English pick-axe is about to uncover the tombs of the Palenquian Pharaohs, and there is no doubt they conceal within their mysterious [illegible] and many precious relics of ancient industry.

Value of Foreign Coins.

Washington, April 1.—The director of the mint has calculated and the secretary of the treasury has proclaimed the values of the following coins to be followed in estimating the value of all foreign merchandise imported into the United States on and after April 1, 1891.

Notes of a Revolution.

Santiago de Chile, April 1.—Liberals have been completely successful in the recent election.

The condition of the revolution is the same. Liquidation is suspended to be desperate. Famine prices prevail, and the coal supply is exhausted, while on the coast the revolutionary fleet is keeping a sharp lookout for such colliers as may appear.

A government squadron made up of an armed cruiser, two gun boats and three torpedo boats is about ready to offer battle to the ships of the revolutionists. A conclusive naval engagement is expected to follow the meeting of the fleets.

Epidemic in Iowa.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 1.—The grip epidemic has struck Des Moines, and the doctors report that hundreds are affected by the disease. In many cases it is said to be fatal. Reports from the surrounding towns show that the disease is general through central Iowa. The weather, in the opinion of physicians, continues favorable to its spread. A meeting of the Iowa World's Fair commission to-day it is believed will have to be postponed on account of the grip having taken down several members, including the president.

All Buying Sugar.

St. Louis, April 1.—The retail dealers in sugar who for months have been keeping their stocks as low as their actual needs would permit, awaiting the release from bonds of thousands of barrels of sugar from the local custom house, improved the opportunity and were out bright and early to-day with a view to replenishing their stock. It is estimated that between 10,000 and 50,000 barrels of sugar were released at midnight last night.

TELEGRAPH BREVITIES.

At New York—New York, 21; Williams College, 3.

Mr. Parnell is suffering from a severe cold and is confined to his apartments at Sligo.

Thirty more bodies were recovered from the wreck of the steamship Utopia, making the total number recovered up to the present time 49.

Ex-Senator James Harlan is seriously ill at his home in Mount Pleasant, Ia. His physicians and friends are worried about his condition.

President Diaz on Tuesday received Gen. Nelson A. Miles. Complimentary addresses were made by both gentlemen. General Miles visited the military college at Chapultepec.

The president refused to grant a pardon to Bond Crumption, a half-breed, convicted of killing a man named Morgan in Arkansas. Crumption was sentenced to be hanged October 1, 1890, but on September 29, a stay of execution was granted by the court pending an appeal to the president for executive clemency.

John Harry Martin, the young man who broke into the executive mansion some nights ago, was called into the police court yesterday but failed to answer. The original charge against Martin was "mobs pressed" and the district attorney filed a charge against Martin of assault. The collateral security of $25 was forfeited and the case ended there.

Yesterday morning the second floor of T. A. Haerzler's storage warehouse, corner of Thirteenth and Pine streets, Pittsburg, fell in with a crash that could be heard for blocks around. One man was killed, another will die and three others are injured. Without a note of warning, the floor suddenly gave way with the immense weight upon it, and fell through to the ground.

Rhode Island Election.

Newport, April 1.—The state election is progressing very quietly here. The weather is warm and pleasant and favorable to a full vote, but the polling up to noon had not been heavy. The Democratic state ticket will probably receive a small majority.

The Grip in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, April 1.—The grip is making severe inroads here. A great many people are sick, and the doctors have more work than they can attend to. The police and fire departments are crippled, and the big merchandise establishments report large sick lists.

Stock Quotations.

New York, April 1.—Money closed easy at 3 per cent. Bar silver 99¾.

The recall of the Italian minister was regarded as of little consequence on Wall street to-day and no material influence upon prices was noted. There was an attempt made by the bears to make a panic out of the affair but the quick absorption of their offerings soon entailed a cessation of their desire to sell.

Parliamentary Amenities.

How these gentlemen of the gilded chamber pull each other to pieces! A member of the Extreme Left said, in reference to another deputy of the Extreme Right:

"The previous speaker is a marquis, who lacquers his head and its political creed with a coat of old, rancid pomatum, dating from the reign of King Pharamond."

To which the aristocrat replied:

"A deputy of the advanced school must be filthy to a degree if he can keep his finger on being told that he changes his opinions as often as his shirt."—Le Petit Journal pour Rire.

Cure of Wild Easy.

Irene—You ought to be thankful you haven't a great big mouth like mine.

Laura—Your mouth is none too large, dear. I quite envy you. My mouth won't hold more than half my hairpins.—Chicago Tribune.

NEW GEMS.

Among the valuable gems the "Noble Opal" has from earliest time held a very prominent position—in later times superstition [illegible] and likely to ruin the chance of public favor for the "Queen of Night." Now again the demand for first class stones is in excess of the supply. A more modest taste amongst the lovers of bijouterie art is creating an excited demand for "Mexican Opal," these are exquisite, the artist takes advantage of story play of color and using this porcelain as a back ground, produces effects unattainable with any other gem.
